What is boiler Protection cover?

We offer a range of different protection levels to suit every budget and provide you with peace of mind. If the worst happens and your boiler breaks down, a local, gas-safety registered engineer will usually be available within 24 hours. Your cover will help with the costs if this does happen, meaning you are not hit with a large, unplanned repair bill.

To find out more or to sign up to any of our boiler and central heating protection services, please visit our office, see our website or call one of our team.
